

Please do not change the ruling. I feel that these salespeople are violating my rights (disturbing the peace). They have no right to invade my home. They are annoying and greedy. If I wish to turn off an advertisement or chose to ignore a newspaper ad, I am able. With a phone call, I have no choice to answer or to listen to the message on my machine, grant it I can stop it fairly quickly. But why should I have to be annoyed by these calls? Is it greed?
